On 15 November 2013 the Panel of Judges will assemble at the Lissone museum centre in Viale Padania 6 for the Lissone Design award - Design for Food, Design to Feed, a biennial international competition that is now in its fourth edition.

The Panel will be composed of: Matteo Pirola, Scientific curator of the Lissone Design 2013 award, Alberto Zanchetta, Artistic director of the Lissone modern art museum, Luisa Collina, Ordinary professor in Design, delegated by the Rector for Expo2015 and Major Events of the University, Milan Polytechnic, Aldo Colonetti, Director of Ottogono and Susanna Legrenzi, Journalist and independent curator.

The Panel members shall review all the projects and documents sent in from different countries, in accordance with the criteria identified by the competition:

- Originality of the idea
- Feasibility of the project
- Quality of the overall presentation of the project
- Production and presentation of a prototype/model.

The works of the Panel will result in the assignment of eight cash prizes, subdivided between the two categories of the competition: Function and Ritual.

For the "Function" category: € 2,000.00 for 1st place, € 1,500.00 € for 2nd place, €1,000.00 for 3rd place and €500.00 for the best Under 26.

For the "Ritual" category: € 2,000.00 for 1st place, € 1,500.00 € for 2nd place, €1,000.00 for 3rd place and €500.00 for the best Under 26.

The desire of the Municipal Administration to promote international youth creativity and to address, through the Lissone Design Award 2013 and the next 2015 edition, the topics of the Universal Exposition "Feeding the Planet – Energy for Life", have obtained important supranational recognitions in the form of the patronage of the European Parliament of Brussels, of ExpoMilano2015 and of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

As a testament to the significance of the competition promoted by the City of Lissone and by Lissone Modern art museum, it has also received the patronage of the Ministry for cultural heritage, the arts and tourism – Regional Directorate, of the Region of Lombardy, of the Province of Monza and Brianza and of the Triennale Design Museum of Milan.

All the projects selected by the Panel with the associated prototypes will appear in the final thematic exhibition, which will be inaugurated at the Lissone Modern Art Museum on 14 December 2013, at 18.00 at the award presentation ceremony.
